

AP Publishes Secret Report Of Red Drive On Protestants

A report which purports to describe circumstances leading to the arrest of 15 Bulgarian pastors on treason charges has been delivered to the Associated Press.

It was delivered yesterday by a traveler from Europe who said it was given by associates abroad who stipulated that its source could not be disclosed because of possible retaliation to "friends" in Bulgaria.

The traveler, a responsible official, said he has no knowledge of his own that the report is correct, but adds:

"I am certain that the source is reliable. I think it is as documentary as it can be because anyone who tries to get full documentation across the border is asking for trouble."

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—A report received here says that a program of "outright persecution" of Protestants in Bulgaria began in January, 1948, on the basis of secret Communist party orders.

Since that time, the report says, between 30 and 40 pastors of the United Evangelical Church, which includes four denominations, have been imprisoned.

Source Is Secret
The report was delivered to the Associated Press yesterday by a responsible person just returned from Europe who specified that neither his name, his position nor source of the report could be disclosed.

He said the report was prompted by the recent arrest of 15 Bulgarian Protestant leaders for alleged treason, spying and violations of foreign currency laws.

The campaign began, the report says, when Communist Central Headquarters in Sofia sent a directive to Communist leaders in which the Evangelical pastors were accused of "undermining the foundations of the people's power." The directive is quoted as saying:

"If we analyze carefully the sermons of these pastors, we shall see that in spite of their outward innocence and virtue, behind their words, wrapped in mysticism and religious secrecy, are hidden anti-national reactionary tendencies."

Arrests And Beatings
The directive is said to have called for questioning of pastors by Communist leaders, and to have resulted in a series of arrests, beatings and confinements, which are described in detail in the report.

Then in June, 1948, the report says, the government addressed a letter to church leaders, telling them they should, among other things:

"Not criticize the government; support nationalism; acknowledge (Please Turn To Page 8)

Reds Ordered From U.S. Zone

Frankfurt, Germany, Feb. 16 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay has requested the official Soviet representative mission in the U. S. zone to leave American occupied territory, it was announced today.

The "request virtually amounted to an order," it was said. Army authorities said Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, had asked the Russians to leave, but they had contended the mission was "indispensable."

Following this, the army announced: "Because the voluntary repatriation of displaced persons who are Soviet citizens has virtually ceased, the Russian repatriation mission in the U. S. zone will not operate after March 1."

PRICE THREE CENTS

250 FIREMEN AND GUESTS AT ANNUAL DINNER

Three reels of moving pictures, a three-act floor show, reminiscences of "the old days" by Vice President William G. Weaver and a brief talk by Judge W. C. Sheely highlighted the program which followed the annual Ladies' Night banquet of the Gettysburg Fire department Tuesday evening in the Moose home. More than 250 firemen, their ladies and other guests attended.

Vice President Weaver recalled the old buff uniforms with the long coats worn by Gettysburg firemen of many years ago, and how "Benton Gilbert and Emory Strausbaugh always carried the fire company's banner in the parades."

He paid particular tribute to the "unselfish service" of the old-time firemen and organizers of the company and those who had served 25 years or more. He recalled numerous humorous incidents of their fire-fighting days. A tribute was paid to James B. Aumen, president, who was unable to attend.

Judge Sheely's remarks were brief and almost entirely on the humorous side. He spoke of reading in The Gettysburg Times of the reorganization of the fire company 50 years ago, and of the fire in the warehouse of J. George Wolf's Sons on Stratton street, when fire burned through a ceiling, and released a quantity of oats, which smothered the fire.

Movies, Entertainment
Raymond E. Menges, former secretary, was toastmaster. Joseph E. Codori showed three movies obtained from the National Board of Fire Underwriters, "Crimes of Carelessness," depicting common household fire hazards and careless practices; "Texas City Come Back," a picture showing the devastation of the city after the explosion and the strides made in restoring property; and "Trees for Tomorrow," showing not only the value of reforestation, but the dangers from fires in the woods.

The vaudeville acts included Billy Dale, circus clown; Ruth Wayne, accordion, and Starkey, a ventriloquist. Pete Dummer played the electric organ during the banquet.

The arrest was made by Chief of Police Anton Maaske of New Oxford who had filed the charge before Justice Straley. The arrest was made at the Alwine brick yard where Kuhn is employed. The defendant was committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail for court.

WORLEY FACES REPRISALS ON GAS TAX FIGHT

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Rep. Francis Worley, Adams County Republican, said today reprisals already have been started against him for his opposition to the administration tax program. "One member asked me to leave the Republican caucus," Worley told a newsman. "I offered to go and got up to leave but Majority Leader (Charles H.) Brunner told me to stay."

Worley was the sole Republican who voted with the Democrats on Monday to send the proposed gasoline tax measure back to committee. He also presented amendments to exempt farmers from payment of the levy on fuel used in farm machinery.

Apple Tax Bill Offered In House

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—The House received a proposal for a one-cent a bushel tax on Pennsylvania-grown apples.

Only producers would pay the levy designed to raise $100,000 a year to advertise Keystone state's apple industry over the nation.

Rep. George Goodling (R-York) sponsored the legislation which exempts small growers who raise 500 bushels or less a year.

The Pennsylvania Horticultural Association is supporting the bill, similar to the one which died in committee when it was first introduced two years ago.

Lois Jane Warren, student at Biglerville high school, won a $25 cash prize for writing the best essay on "The Place of the Motor Truck in Pennsylvania Industry." GENERAL BAILEY LAUDS NATIONAL GUARD UNIT HERE

Brig. Gen. William S. Bailey, commanding general of the Tenth Corps Artillery, termed the local National Guard unit, a "good troop" in remarks made to the men at the conclusion of a command inspection Tuesday night.

"I watched you at Indiantown Gap last summer, both in the camp and on the range and I know you did a good job there," the general said. "You have a good troop and sufficient strength now to go ahead. I know you have been short of equipment, but that has been remedied and now you are ready to move ahead," he declared.

The general and his aides made a thorough inspection of the local Troop A of the 104th Mechanized Reconnaissance Squadron, covering everything from the guardmen themselves to all of their equipment. They "sat in" on instruction periods of radio; watched close order drills; questioned the men on their military knowledge, clambered over armed cars, and half tracks, inspected weapons, and sampled a meal prepared by the troop's cooks in field kitchens set up at the armory.

Inspecting Officers

Among those taking part in the inspection were General Bailey; Col. Carl C. Neely, Col. J. V. Phelps, senior army instructor for Pennsylvania; Maj. Clair J. Stouffer, commanding the 104th; Col. Ralph N. Eart; Chief Warrant Officer Theo. (Please Turn to Page 2)

U.S. Scientists Working On "Space Ships" To Flash Through Stratosphere At 10,000 m.p.h.

By ROBERT M. FARRINGTON
Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—Government scientists are working on a "space ship" which would flash through the stratosphere at nearly 10,000 miles an hour.

While bare hints of such an "Earth Satellite Vehicle Program" have appeared before, the first scant details have just been disclosed in a chart issued by the Curtiss Wright corporation, longtime builder of military planes and engines.

The chart shows that secret government research is being conducted on both the 10,000 M.P.H. satellite and a 3,000-4,000 M.P.H. rocket plane. Also under the secret classification is a guided ram-jet missile able to speed above 2,000 M.P.H. No other details were given.

Scientists have speculated on shooting a rocket to a point where its speed counterbalances the earth's gravity, where it could circle like a miniature moon. The first official announcement that military men are planning such a satellite was tucked away in the first annual report of Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Forrestal said in two cryptic sentences that the "earth satellite vehicle program" had been put under

Here And There News Collected At Random

The annual fund drive of the Adams County Chapter of The American Red Cross will begin February 27 and continue for one week during which time Adams countians will be asked to donate $11.185.

Co-Chairmen Philip M. Jones and Richard E. Dreas are having some difficulty securing sufficient workers to canvas the entire county during the week's campaign. Many of the volunteer workers in previous years are unable to serve this year and there are not sufficient volunteers to fill the vacancies.

Countians are urged, however, to be prepared to make their donations to this worthy cause in liberal amounts in order to assure the success of the drive. The county quota represents a little more than 25 cents from every man, woman and child in the county. However, this ratio will not represent the donations. The co-chairmen realize that not every individual will give something toward the drive. Hence they are depending upon the generosity of other Red Cross supporters to attain the goal.

The Red Cross serves in every emergency. It cannot continue this work without financial assistance. That assistance comes from the American people who derive the major benefits from this humanitarian organization. Your personal contribution will keep the Red Cross active.

FARMERS FILE REQUESTS FOR FURTHER DATA

How to efficiently use the hired hand who works by the year, and better account books—which will give the answer when needed to fill out income tax reports, are two of the many things Adams county farmers want to know.

Those were among the requests presented by farmers at a series of five meetings held throughout the county during the past 10 days. The final session was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4. About 200 attended the sessions.

Fruit growers in particular are anxious to get more information on how to more efficiently use the all-year-around help, Ira N. Dumire, assistant county agent, said today. Dumire met with the farmers at all of the sessions, which were held by the county agricultural extension association to determine just what the farmers want in the form of information during the coming year.

New Account Books

Under the present set up the hired hand who works all year works overtime during a few months and then has little to do during other periods of the year. What the farmers would like to know is how to spread out the work so that the hired man will be able to do a better job all year around.

Present account books provide a (Please turn to Page 7)

The commissioners were informed that work in the men's dormitory at the county home, including new floors, lights, painting and installation of a new sink, is nearing completion. A new sink has been installed in the annex and plans are being forwarded to place new floors there, paint, and generally revise the interior of that building. The commissioners said they plan to have removed, if possible, the steel bars in the windows and doors of the former insane building. The bars were built into the building originally when it was used for the detention of those who were insane.

Glenn Chronister, Hampton, has posted $500 bail to appear before the county court on a charge of surety of the peace preferred by Lloyd Albright before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorff, New Oxford R. D., according to a return made by the justice to the county clerk of courts.

According to the return, Albright claimed Chronister "struck him" in a squabble over a garage bill. Albright told the justice, according to the transcript, that "as long as the bill is not settled my life will be in danger." The testimony, as related in the transcript, showed that Albright offered to settle for $75 including the garage bill, and payment of the costs of the case. Chronister stated he was not guilty and refused to settle.

Orders Work On Two Jobs Stopped

Borough authorities today ordered work stopped on a house trailer on College avenue and the erection of a fire escape at the C. M. Weigle property, 345 Carlisle street.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner reported to Burgess C. A. Heiges that the house trailer had been placed near West Lincoln and College avenues; but that no permits had been obtained, either for the trailer, for rigging, or for making connection to the sewer.

The fire escape was also being erected without a building permit first having been obtained, authorities said.

The Burgess directed that the borough police notify owners to stop work. A borough police officer visited both places and carried out the Burgess' orders.

Claims He's Champ Hamburger Eater

Los Angeles, Feb. 16 (AP)—Charles Posner, 24-year-old University of Southern California student, opined today he is the "world's inter-collegiate hamburger eating champion."

It was told at the fraternity house until somebody thought of the little cafe with the sign: "Eat a dozen burgers and get 'em free."

Mayonnaise oozing to the left and onions to the right, Posner chomped through 13—a cafe manager Ralph Emerson's careful count.

Then he asked for dessert—cake and cocoa.

Posner, stepson of Paul Schell, Danish consul in Chicago, said he will take on all comers.

SENTENCED TO DIE

Doylstown, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—David Darcy, 23, was sentenced to death in the electric chair today for his part in the slaying of William Kelly, 38, in the Peasterville inn holdup December 22, 1947. Darcy is one of four Philadelphia youths arrested in the killing. He was convicted by a jury last June. A motion for new trial was denied before the sentencing. His only statement was a mumbled "no" when asked if he had anything to say.

Heavier Penalties For 'Peeping Toms'

East Liverpool, O., Feb. 16 (AP)—"Peeping Toms" will receive more than a "slap on the wrist" if they're convicted here.

City council adopted a measure yesterday that provides a $500 fine and a six-month jail term.

Passed as emergency legislation, it amounts to a revision of a 52-year-old ordinance that provided only $20 maximum fine "for frightening the inmates of a house."

The new penalties are the maximum the state law allows for a misdemeanor and follows numerous complaints of "peeping Toms" received earlier.

Violence Flares In Phila. Strike

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Violence flared on Philadelphia's strike front today as weary workers plodded to their jobs despite the walkout of subway, bus, trolley and taxi workers.

Police reported three motorists were attacked by roving gangs of men. Detectives said they did not establish who the assailants were but that in each case the victims said they were accused of hauling passengers for fare. The men attacked, one of whom was hurt seriously, denied the accusation.

The outbreak came on the second day of a strike by 3,500 AFL taxi drivers and the sixth day since 11,000 CIO Transport Workers Union members quit their jobs on subways, trolleys and buses. Public transportation facilities in the nation's third largest city virtually are paralyzed.

One of the injured motorists, Clair Reed, 33, is in a hospital where attendants said he is threatened with blindness.

A technician for a big nylon producer here says this business of wholesale nylon running is old. You can blame the stuff that dirties your curtains—soot.

The current mystery had its beginning Monday in Jacksonville, Fla. Women walking down the street suddenly noticed their nylon hose were becoming plagued with runs and gaping holes.

Then came the big run on hose counters for replacements and a chorus of demands for—what happened?—How come?

Jacksonville officials looked into the matter, scratched their heads and muttered, among other things, they didn't know. Florida technicians were called in. Still no answer.

News Collected At Random

Gettysburg. More than 9,000 employees of the company receive the magazine.

One of the basic implications in arguments on behalf of compulsory government health insurance is that the great bulk of the American people are almost totally incapable of dealing with illness when it strikes. That implication is not supported by the facts.

According to one authoritative report, more than 52,000,000 Americans now have hospital insurance; 26,000,000 have surgical insurance, and 9,000,000 have medical insurance. In addition, 31,000,000 have disability benefit insurance. An article in the Christian Science Monitor says that "about half of the 30,000,000 American workers who come under unemployment compensation laws are getting added protection, now, through voluntary programs that insure against wage loss, while employed, due to illness or other disability."

This represents very remarkable progress, particularly in the light of the fact that the voluntary prepayment medical plans had to pass through a trial and error period at the beginning, and did not get going on a big scale until a relatively few years ago. At present, their growth is both steady and rapid, the cost is low, the extent of coverage has been substantially broadened, and they clearly provide the soundest approach yet devised to the problem of paying for medical attention.

There is a small percentage of the population which is actually indigent, and which cannot deal with the problems of illness without outside aid. But, certainly, this group can be cared for without taxing the American people billions a year for a compulsory scheme for all—and without setting the stage for completely socialized medicine.

Controversy Over 85-Point Record

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—The prime news in collegiate basketball circles today is the controversy over the 85 points scored by Villanova's Pat Arizin last Saturday night.

Is this or is it not a new collegiate individual scoring record for a single game?

The Rev. Edward P. McKee, faculty moderator of athletics at Villanova, announced last night Arizin's feat against the Naval Air Material Center would not be submitted to the National Collegiate A. A. for recognition.

Father McKee made the announcement after the Philadelphia Basketball Writers' Association passed a resolution recommending that only intercollegiate games be counted in individual scoring and games won and lost.

Today, Homer F. Cooke, Jr., director of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which compiles NCAA statistics, said Arizin's 85 points "is recognized automatically as a new record by a collegiate player."

MARKET SLOW

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—Modest buying gave the stock market a lift today. A handful of stocks—notably the steel group—refused to join the trend but gains of fractions to more than a point were well distributed. Turnover remained closed to yesterday's rate, which was the smallest in months.

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—President Truman's "Economic Stability Act of 1949"—to protect against "boom or bust"—got an uncertain reception on Capitol Hill today. Warriors Lace Mechanicsburg 44-26 In South Penn Contest

Gettysburg high's cagers kept right at the heels of the league-leading Chambersburg high quintet by disposing of Mechanicsburg here Tuesday evening, 44-26, in a loosely played South Penn game.

Coach George Forney's lads had no worries as they took the lead at the start and were never in danger. The victory was the 11th in 17 tilts for the Warriors.

Westerdahl opened the scoring with a jump shot after 20 seconds and a little later Eisenhart netted a short shot. Cornman tabbed the visitors' first goal after a little over two minutes had elapsed. Paced by Eisenhart, the Warriors built up a 15-6 lead at the end of the first period.

Tempo Slows Down

Play grew particularly ragged in the second quarter and it required two and a half minutes before the locals scored their first points on a long toss by Bushman. Coach Forney inserted several of his reserves to finish out the period which finally ended, 25-12.

Again in the third period the teams were off to slow starts. A foul and goal by Jacobs after the first three minutes was followed by a long leave by Eisenhart after 3:30 minutes. Bushman then connected on a one-hander and midway in the period the Warriors led 32-17. Going into the final quarter Gettysburg was in front, 34-20.

The entire Gettysburg squad saw action in the last period which found the locals outscoring their opponents 10-6, Bushman landing a trio of goals in the period.

Scrubs Triumph

After trailing 4-1 at the close of the first period, the Warrior reserves tallied 11 points in the second period to take a 12-7 advantage at half time and went on to triumph, 36-22. Coach Shoemaker's team had previously lost at Mechanicsburg.

On Friday the Warriors travel to Hanover for an important loop tussle with the Nighthawks. A win at Hanover would present the Forney-men with the opportunity of tying Chambersburg when they clash here next Tuesday.

New Oxford high school's girls' basketball team assured itself of at least a tie for first place in the Adams County league by turning back Biglerville 42-32 at Biglerville Tuesday evening.

The victory was costly to New Oxford as Laurel Taylor, who played an outstanding game and tabbed 19 points, injured her left ankle in the final minute of play. It is feared the ankle was broken. X-rays will be taken at the Warner hospital today.

Sharing honors with Miss Taylor was Gloria Krug who tabbed 22 points for the winners.

The New Oxford reserves bowed to Biglerville 35-12.

Littlestown staged off a rally by Boiling Springs in the final quarter to win 35-30 at Littlestown. J. Bower connected for 23 points to take the scoring honors for the evening.

The Littlestown reserves won the preliminary 36-30.

East Berlin and York Springs divided a double-header at York Springs, the East Berlin varsity winning 34-20 while the York Springs reserves won 43-19.

Diehl, of near Cashtown, were married at the parsonage of the Reformed church, Fairfield, at 4:30 o'clock Thursday evening. The wedding was performed by the Rev. Walter C. Pugh, and was witnessed by the bride's father and sister, Miss Hazel Riggeal.

Examinations for applicants in Adams county will be held on the first and third Mondays in each month, at the State Police headquarters on Baltimore street.

Practicing for Firemen's Show: Practices for "Three Live Ghosts," the Gettysburg Fire company's benefit show to be produced at the Lincoln Way Theater on Tuesday evening, February 19, are progressing nicely under the direction of Earl Steilsmith.

LOVE

What an abused word this little one of love is! It has so many meanings. In our youth, and sometimes far beyond, we "fall in love" with someone with whom we hope always to live and love. But there is a large field for love.

I love books—even with a passionate love. I love many of them as I would their authors, because they nourish me in mind and heart. There are authors whom we admire, and whose genius often baffles us, but we cannot say that we love them. There are others, however, whom we can say that we do love, though in an impersonal way. We say that we love them because of the intimate manner in which they have put themselves into print.

Writers like Robert Burns, Stevenson, and Robert Frost we can well say that we love. They make us love them. We admire the genius of Carlyle and Balzac, but they are difficult to love. An English reviewer said that he loved Scott because "he was a true friend and lover of the poor. He spoke to every man as if he were his blood relation."

John Galsworthy was a great novelist. He wrote from his heart. Those who knew him loved him and called him "Jack." And who couldn't love Charles Lamb? It is impossible to read his delightful "Essays of Elia" without feeling that he wrote solely for us, as he surely did. After feasting upon the perfect paintings of Vermeer one catches the very love of the artist who created such immortal works of art.

No one has ever seen God excepting in what he has created, but millions love him. Creative minds put the mark of themselves upon what they create, and it's the way and manner in which they do it, that makes us love them. No one could help but love the late William (Billy) Lyon Phelps. He stamped his personality and good will upon his readers and friends so indelibly that no one could help but love him. Few great teachers ever exerted so great an influence.

Make love the fuel to your heart and you need have no worry as to your influence, your abundance of friends, or your material success or happiness in life.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Language of Flowers."

MAN AT HIS WORST

In the ballroom he is gracious; at the table he's polite,
Wouldn't grab the salt and pepper from the lady at his right.
He wouldn't jostle women when in front of him they are,
But he's altogether different when he's driving in his car.

At a ticket-window line-up he will always be patient,
To the stranger who approaches none more courteous is than he.

And the pleasure of a party with loud speech he'd never mar,
But he's quite a different person when he's driving in his car.

It's a curious change that follows when he sits behind the wheel.
His voice becomes as raucous as the brake bands when they squeal.
And he screams a bit of language never taught in English class
At the driver, man or woman, who attempts his car to pass.

He risks his life and others, by the way he cuts and swerves.
The friends he takes out riding end the trip with jangled nerves.
He's a very pleasant fellow when at home or when afar,
But he loses all his manners when he starts to drive his car.

NORTH ATLANTIC ALLIANCE GIVEN CLOSE SCRUTINY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The U. S. Senate, as was generally anticipated, is putting the proposed North Atlantic Security Alliance under the microscope.

The critical examination thus far has produced statements indicating that the Senate isn't likely to approve any treaty binding America automatically to go to war under all circumstances.

This projected alliance is a development of the cold war. It has as its object the creation of a barrier which would provide insurance against attack.

The pact has been under discussion by the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The three Scandinavian countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—also have been invited to consider participation in what they regard as a highly delicate proposition.

Frown On Commitment

During yesterday's debate Senator Vandenberg, former chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, was asked if he favored a moral commitment on the part of the United States to fight. He replied: "Not without its own independent decision."

Senator Connally, chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, followed with the declaration that he wouldn't favor in the pact any language which could be regarded as a "moral commitment."

In other words, these two top-ranking foreign policy leaders in the Senate do not approve of signing any alliance which would commit the country prior to the emergency. However, Vandenberg told the Senate that the proposed alliance offers "infinite assurance" against a third world war.

The statements by the two senators reflect a policy pursued by the American government since its inception. This has been to avoid

Push For Probe Of Slave Labor In USSR

Lake Success, Feb. 16 (AP) — The western powers continued pressing today for an investigation of slave labor in Russia but with no apparent hope for getting behind the iron curtain. The Russians say outsiders are really intent on getting spies into their country.

That was the situation facing the U.N. Economic and Social council as it assembled for an 11 a. m. (EST) session to debate the slave labor issue for the third day.

There appeared little or no doubt that the United States would get the necessary votes for approval of its resolution calling for an investigation by the International Labor organization (ILO).

Delegates acknowledged with resignation that the ILO could send investigators into Russia only with Moscow's consent. And Soviet delegate Semen K. Tsarapkin indicated yesterday such consent was hardly likely.

foreign pacts which would commit the country to war in advance of the event. In this connection we find President Washington saying in his farewell address to the American public on his approaching retirement.

U.S. Not Isolated

"The great rule of conduct for us in regard to foreign nations is in extending our commercial relations to have with them as little political connection as possible. x x x

"Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."

Of course conditions have changed vastly since General Washington made that address. America is no longer physically isolated from Europe as she was in 1796. However, his warning against foreign entanglements still is reflected in the discussion of the proposed alliance.

Therefore the value of any alliance would lie, not in any commitment by the United States to go to war automatically, but in the fact that she would in any event have to participate in the general defense against aggression.

'VIEW' ROOMS TO DECIDE ON WALL COVERS

So you're planning to decorate! If that's decided, you've likely inspected your rugs, draperies and furniture for their part in your plans. You have a general idea of a final arrangement. And now you've come to the walls, the important background of your entire decorative scheme.

What patterns, what colors will be best for the walls? Here's one way to decide that problem. As professionals say, you can "view" your rooms. This merely means to consider adjoining rooms as an ensemble. Should they be tied together with harmonizing wallpaper, or would a contrasting effect be better?

May Reveal Answer

"Viewing" may reveal the answer. Stand in your entrance hall and look at all the walls that you can see from that point. Do open doors and archways permit you to see the living room walls, and beyond, to the walls of the dining room and possibly the sun room? What you can see constitutes your first room-view.

Does this first view suggest harmony, or contrast? If you favor harmony, you'll find that the new ensemble wallpapers are pleasing. By colors, or pattern, or both, these new ensemble wallpapers are styled by the manufacturers, to be used together.

But perhaps you prefer contrast. If you do, then choose papers with contrasting patterns and colors. For example: you can use one of the modern striped patterns in the living room and a contrasting flowered pattern in the dining room. Or, a formal all-over pattern in one room and a smart diagonal pattern in the room next to it.

New Wallpapers Varied

The new wallpapers provide an almost unlimited number of new patterns and colors that can be adapted to your decorating plans. But first, it's wise to "view" your rooms as suggested. This fixes a clear picture of the rooms in your mind. Then, when the sample books are before you, you'll find it easier to choose suitable patterns and colors to carry out the decorating plan most appropriate to your home.

Say Hardwood Is Best For Floors

Most home building experts recommend hardwood floors, usually oak, for all rooms in a house except possibly the bathroom and the kitchen. Tile is considered ideal for the former, since it is waterproof and easily cleaned with soap and water. Because a kitchen floor ordinarily is covered with linoleum, any species of flooring wood that is sufficiently strong and durable is generally deemed adequate. Oak is preferred for the other rooms because it combines unmatched beauty with the other essentials of good flooring.

SOUNDPROOF WITH CLOSETS

The prospective home owner may achieve effective soundproofing between two bedrooms or between bedroom and bathroom by locating closets in the connecting walls. The double walls form good barriers to sound.

Silence Creaky Stairs This Way

Creaky stairs may be silenced by nailing headless finishing nails through the treads into the risers below them. The tread is the flat step of a stair; the riser is the vertical piece at the back of each tread. The nails used should be two and one-half to three inches in length. They should slant alternately to left and to right as they are nailed in place. Two may be enough. After countersinking, the nailholes should be filled with plastic wood or putty and tinted to match the woodwork.

Timely And Modern Suggestions Presented By Builders And Contractors

ATTENTION TO ROOF'S NEEDS SAVES COSTS

How long has it been since the roof over your head was checked? Will the roof continue to ward off the elements for another year, or has the weather beaten the "life" out of it?

Roofs too often are taken for granted. Simply because a roof has given good service for many years, home owners forget that it is the most exposed part of a house, subject to unremitting attack. Hot Summer suns bake the roof, and rains cool it. Winter's snows and ice freeze it, and winds blowing from every direction seek to rip and tear it.

Most parts of a house "scream" for attention before it is too late. Paint flakes and chips. The furnace "acts up." The refrigerator gets noisy. But a roof silently does its job until weather finally takes its toll. Then, water seeps in.

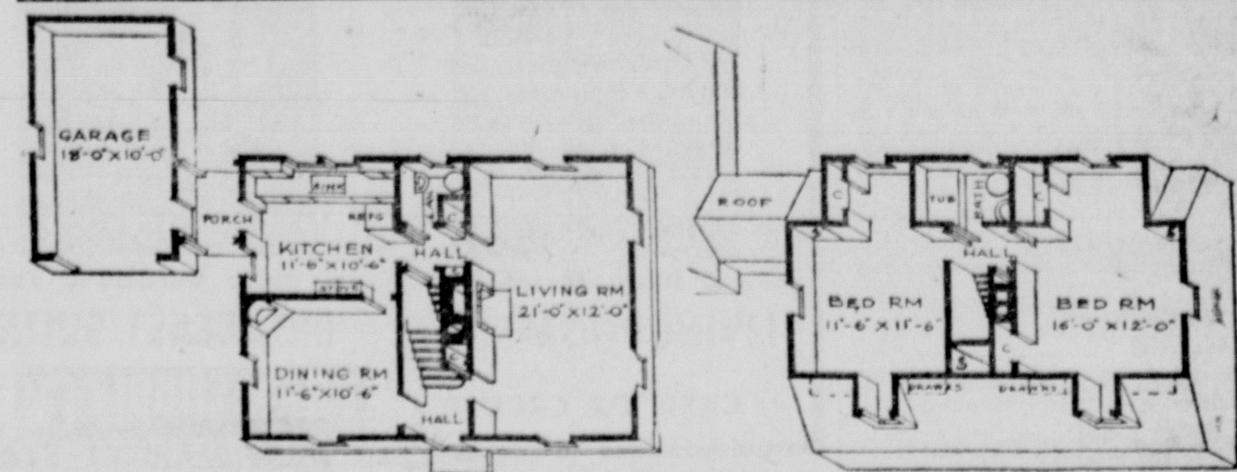

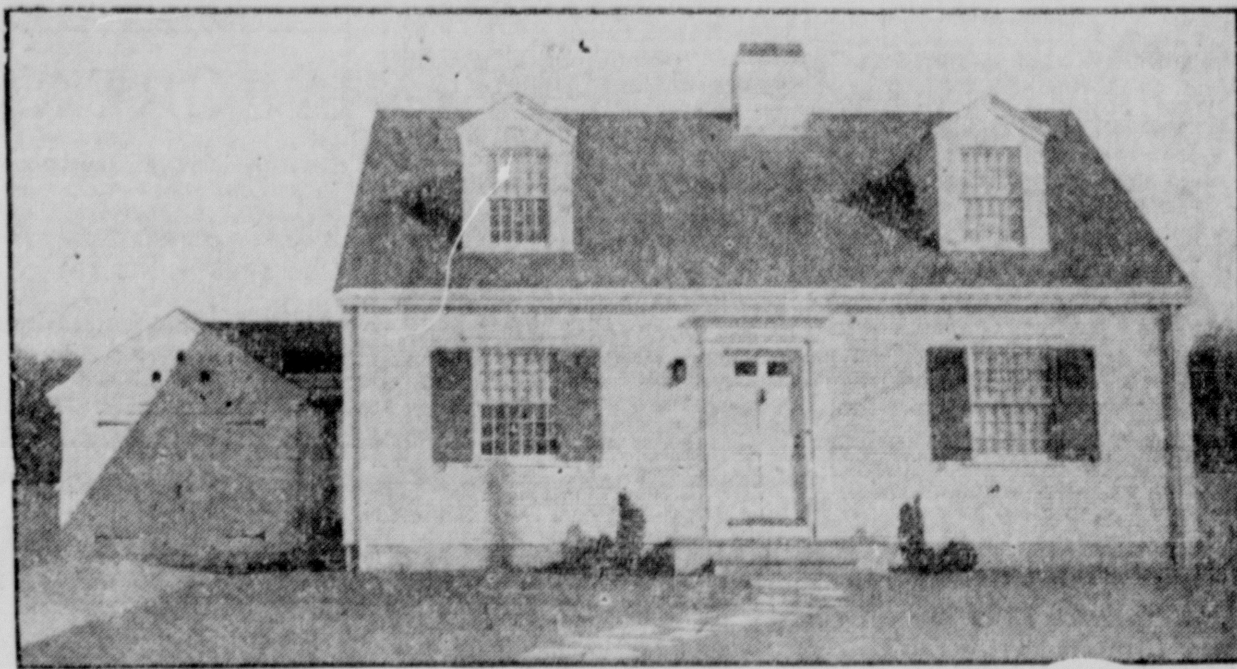

If ignored, roofers warn, moisture may rot the roof deck, or the wood in the deck may swell and buckle and tear the roof covering. Often water may make its way inside the walls and emerge far from the source of the leak, cracking the plaster and staining the wallpaper.

Unless a roof is replaced before it ends its useful life, the interior of the house may require repairs. And the cost is likely to exceed the price of a new roof.

Patching an old roof seldom pays. H. R. Snook of the U. S. Bureau of Standards states that "a single apparent leak in a badly weathered roof is usually the forerunner of other larger leaks that will appear in a relatively short time. . . . There comes a time in the life of a roof on every permanent structure when it is no longer practicable or economical to effect repairs. When that time comes, re-roofing is the only solution."

There is more to consider in selecting a roof than just its initial cost. A roof not only should provide trouble-free service for many years, but also it should beautify the home by its rich textures and blended colors, and protect the home from the danger of sparks or flying embers.

Unusual Details Add To Cottage

Although scores of Cape Cod type houses are to be seen in practically every modern home community those which invariably attract a second glance from passersby possess some unusual detail along with neatness and good balance. "The Eastport," introduced today by the Plan Service, is one of those that will warrant that second glance.

Narrow clapboarding and small-paned windows give a certain delicacy to the exterior, and this is enhanced by the black and white color combination used in the outside finish—white walls, black roof and shutters and a white painted central chimney with black-banded top.

Simple Doorway

The simple Colonial doorway has bull's-eye glassed in its top panels.

These give light to the usual Cape Cod entry hall, with stairway and coat closet opposite the front door, arches at left and right into living and dining rooms.

The living room, measuring 21x12 feet, has four windows on three exposures. In the long inside wall of the room centered between doors to front and rear hall space, is a fireplace which may be either Colonial in design or of the flush mantel-type.

The dining room, 11.6x10.6 feet in dimensions, has a built-in corner china and linen cabinet, two windows and walls finished off with a chair-rail.

A double-action swinging door connects the dining room and kitchen. In this 11.6x10.6 foot room the refrigerator is placed alongside of a working counter with sink which occupies the long outside wall. The cooking range is a step or two away, against the long inside wall of the room. Storage cabinets for utensils and food supplies are built above and beneath the working counter.

Storage Closets in Hall

The second outside wall of the kitchen has a window and a glazed door opening on a porch that connects house and garage. An opening across from this service entry leads to the rear hall, to the living room from which doors open on a lavette and to the basement stairway. Two storage closets are located in this hall area.

The full basement offers ample room for furnace equipment, laundry and storage, leaving space beneath the living room available for recreational use.

On the second floor are two bedrooms, one measuring 16x12 feet, the other 11.6x11.6 feet, a modern bathroom and a small connecting hall with linen closet at the top of the stairs. Each bedroom gets good cross ventilation from three windows and is provided with excellent closet and storage space and built-in drawers in the under-eaves space. Roof insulation should extend from plate to plate.

If the garage is built as pictured a lot with at least 60 feet frontage will be required. By making the garage a detached structure, at the rear of the house, a 50-foot front lot would be ample.

Overall dimensions of the house are 30x23 feet and cubage 13,800 feet, with an additional 2300 for the garage, totalling 16,300 feet in all. The size of the porch connecting garage and house may be varied to suit size of lot. Screening or glazing of the porch is also optional.

Plans Are Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house, "The Eastport," are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, The Gettysburg Times, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

The wren is one of the few bird families in which the plumage of the male and female are alike.

Sun Porches Can Be More Useful

The usefulness of the glassed-in porch which made its appearance early in the 1920's, has been seriously questioned. Too cool for comfort in the winter and often used only a few months during the summer, it served usually to shorten and darken the living room. This problem is solvable by removing the wall between the living room and the sun porch, making one large, sunny room. Not only does it permit more space, but it brings the room into the light and provides reading corners that all the family may enjoy.

A Lifetime Of Strength

In the mighty forests of our country . . . huge trees of many families are carefully selected to be hewn, transported to cities and towns everywhere . . . then weathered and cut into board lengths. This is the type of lumber we offer you for your home building and repairing. This is lumber so dry, so solid, it is in itself a promise of permanence.

EVEN HURRICANES CAN'T BUDGE TITE-ON SHINGLES!

Hambly's Dairy Farm, North Dartmouth, Mass.

"The night of Sept. 14, 1944, the hurricane blew down trees in our yard and other buildings were damaged, but your Tite-On Shingles stood the gaff and remained solid to the roof."

Letters like this prove that Tite-Ons live up to their name. They're specifically designed to resist the strongest gales. That's why a Tite-On roof is a profitable investment—it's trouble-free! Don't wait for howling winds to remind you that your roof needs attention—re-roof now with Tite-On shingles. Remember you get these patented features only in the genuine Tite-On Shingle, made exclusively by the Ruberoid Co.

Concealed interlocking keeps Tite-Ons in place when other shingles go flying. This patented feature makes your roof permanently windproof and weatherproof. Each shingle interlocks in four places, and in addition has concealed nailing at four points. The result is a roof that's virtually "one-piece," that can't blow up or come loose!

BILL TO BAN 'CLOSED SHOP' AT BAR OFFERED

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (P)—A Senate Republican leader backed a move in the General Assembly today to abolish the so-called "closed shop" practice among Pennsylvania lawyers.

Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny), Senate floor leader, introduced a bill yesterday which would permit lawyers to set up shop in any county in the commonwealth once they are admitted to practice before the state Supreme Court.

Under regulations now in effect in many counties, young law school graduates are compelled to meet county residence requirements and abide by quota rules.

"The present rules and regulations in some counties create unfortunate situations for some young boys just out of law school," Walker said. "My bill gives them an opportunity to set up a practice anywhere they wish. I don't think any county bar association has the right to decide what percentage of bar applicants are to be admitted to practice in their areas."

Walker said he had hoped that bar associations would take steps themselves to ease the situation, but added: "They have delayed so long that legislative action appears to be the only way."

While the measure permits a lawyer to set up a practice in any county he chooses, he must restrict his practice at any one time to that particular county. The measure also gives county courts the right to investigate educational and character qualifications of new attorneys.

Other new Senate bills would: Increase the mileage allowance for members of the General Assembly from 5 to 10 cents a mile—John M. Walker (R-Allegheny).

Give third class cities the right to create the office of city manager by ordinance—Charles R. Mallory (R-Blair).

Washington, Feb. 16 (P)—Senator Morse (R-Ore.) predicted today that a Republican-sponsored labor bill may upset the administration labor program in the Democrat-dominated Senate.

He made the comment as the Senate Labor committee called William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to testify on what he thought of the President's proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and replace it with the Thomas bill, a modified Wagner Act.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Mrs. Alice Lockard is reported seriously ill at her home. Jimmie Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker, suffered an injury to his leg when he jumped from a railing on an open stairway. His leg is in a cast.

LeRoy Witters, proprietor of the Abbottstown Garment factory, is installing more machines in the lower floor of the factory. He has also added a covered stairway on the north side of the building.

HOUSE PASSES SOFT DRINKS, GASOLINE TAXES

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (P)—The controversial gasoline and soft drink taxes—approved in the House by narrow margins—headed for possible new trouble in the state Senate today.

The hotly disputed measures went through the lower branch with unexpected Democratic support yesterday after 24-hours of behind-the-scenes maneuvers that brought a cry of "infamous bargain" from one Democratic leader. It was immediately denied by another Democrat.

The first sign of possible Senate difficulty arose when the gasoline tax measure, bitterly opposed by the oil industry and other groups, was sent to the highways committee instead of the finance committee, which usually handles tax measures in the upper branch.

Went Hurry Bill
Lieutenant Governor Daniel B. Strickler, who made the committee assignment, explained that the highways committee deals with road problems. Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader, later said it didn't matter which committee considered it and predicted the entire administration tax program will be out of committee by the end of February.

"There will be 35 Republican votes for the soft drink tax," he declared.

But Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lycoming) chairman of the Senate highways committee, was more conservative. He told a reporter "we are not going to hurry" the bill to increase the gasoline tax from four to five cents a gallon. "The highways department is asking for $100,000,000 to spend on roads and we want to find out where it's going. They must have some idea. We want them to tell us," he added.

It was Democratic votes, most of them from Allegheny county Representatives, that put over the soft drink tax in the House. The Republican leaders could only muster 97 GOP House votes for the soft drink measure on the final showdown. Twelve Democratic votes, however, made the final count 109-93.

On the gasoline tax, the story was different. There were 11 Democrats voting in favor of the tax boost but there were also 107 Republicans on the administration side—two more than the constitutional majority of 105. The remainder of the administration taxes had easy sailing.

The tax measures will produce $443,000,000 in the next two years. In addition to the controversial issue, the other taxes are those on cigarettes, beer, liquor, gross receipts of utilities, the corporate net income tax and postponement of the exemption of manufacturing capital from the state's capital stock tax.

"It is the most infamous bargain ever concluded in this chamber by a minority," Rep. H. G. Andrews, House minority leader, said of the Democratic eleventh-hour defection. "I won't be a part of this situation." He charged there was a deal for the

Acquit Man Of 'Whiskey' Slaying

Bedford, Pa., Feb. 16 (P)—A criminal court jury freed Clark Morgan, 34, of manslaughter charges yesterday in the "William Tell" slaying of a tavernkeeper friend.

Morgan freely admitted he tried to shoot a whiskey glass off the head of his friend, Thomas B. Leary, with a .22 caliber pistol on Feb. 5.

"I still can't see how I missed," said Morgan, a resident of Cumberland, Md., adding that he tried the stunt only at Leary's repeated insistence.

Defense Attorney Edward J. Ryan told the jury the tragedy in his Allegheny county votes in return for administration support of a proposed wage tax for that county, now under Democratic control politically.

ANGRY DISCORD ON VET PENSION BILL AT CAPITAL

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—Angry disagreement developed in Congress today over a multi-billion dollar veterans pension bill which barreled through the House Veterans committee yesterday amid cries of "dictatorship."

Disputing charges of using dictatorial methods in obtaining committee approval, Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) endeavored to override administration opposition and force a quick House vote on the pension proposal.

Estimate Huge Cost

Although President Truman has let it be known there is no place for veterans pensions in his budget, Rankin predicted it would carry by a landslide in both House and Senate if brought to a vote.

The bill would pay $90 a month to the 18,800,000 veterans of both world wars when they reach 65 years of age, provided they served at least 90 days and were not dishonorably discharged.

The first year's cost of the pension in its present form has been estimated at $129,000,000, increasing annually to an ultimate peak of $66,000,000,000 a year by 1990.

Six Walk Out

The measure was approved in an uproarious closed-door session of the committee lasting a little over

WORLEY FACES

said he was soundly criticized in the Republican caucus for "putting the Republicans on the spot" with his farm exemption amendment.

"They said I should have told them in advance," Worley continued. "I tried to tell them at a meeting before the measures came up but they shouted me down. They wouldn't let me be heard. They were afraid I might pick up some votes."

Worley said a House committee also has sent to a sub-committee two of his bills "in retaliation" for his opposition to the tax program. The measures are those making it illegal to have anything but standard time in public buildings and thoroughfares and to allow blood tests in cases of disputed parentage.

Opposed Soft Drink Tax

"Both are good measures and have wide support," Worley said. "I feel the action was taken in committee against these bills for what I did on the floor."

In addition to voting against the gasoline tax, Worley also voted and spoke against the continuation of the controversial soft drink levy.

an hour. Mid-way of the deliberations, six members of the committee—all Democrats—stalked out in protest against what they charged were Rankin's "high-handed" tactics.

Rep. Huber (D-Ohio), one of those who took a walk, said the dissenters were considering writing a minority report to "set forth our views." Walking out with Huber were Reps. Mack (Ill.), Patten (Ariz.), Donohue (Mass.), Chudoff (Pa.), and Rodino (N.J.).

Meanwhile, Rankin sought clearance for his bill from an unreciprocative House leadership.

Held As Hostages

Later, the minister of foreign affairs is said to have threatened to close the churches unless they did "something to aid the government."

As a result, the report says, the churches made "certain concessions" and the foreign affairs minister "assumed editorial control."

Nevertheless the arrests continued, the report says, adding:

"By November, between 30 and 40 in all were in prison. Some were held at hostages for others who could not be found."

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of the gastric digestive juices plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, and better, work better, play better.

Stop punishing yourself with over-eating of rich and other alkalis to neutralize gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help your digest food for body strength and health. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.
